

SENSEU

SENSU

A new event series in Toronto highlighting aspiring creative directors through curated events.

Art meets senses.

Sensu focuses on promoting and facilitating the diverse artistic practices of independent and emerging Creative Directors in the Greater Toronto Area.

Our events create a sensory experience across diverse industries through collaboration.

Series.

Our event series showcases creative directors in a new way. Each event focuses on a different sense in a new, innovative way.

Sensu series support creative directors from the entire GTA. We offer support, funding and a new platform to connect with the creative industries.

LEARN MORE

Sessions.

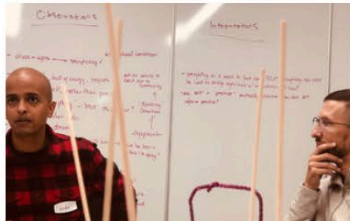

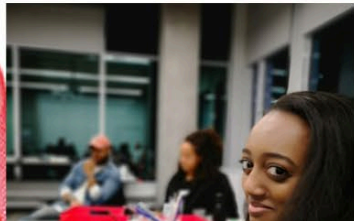

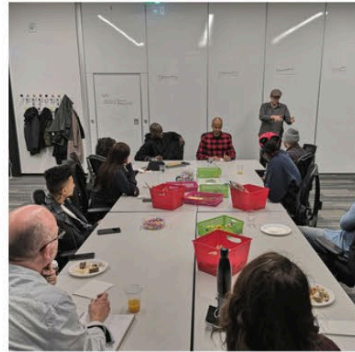

Sensu Sessions are the pre-workshops to our event series.

Meet other Creative Directors and learn key insights of the media/arts industry, have the ability to work on current ideations and immerse yourself in this new community.

LEARN MORE

Submit your talent.

Choose to get involved in sensory mediums online and offline. Be apart of a project that is inspired by your own concepts within your own community.

Showcase your talent using
#sensuseries
and become part of our next event.

You like it old school?

SEND US YOUR APPLICATION

Sensu provides workshops and experiences designed specifically for the modern creative. We are determined to create spaces allowing peer-based programming with leading creators in our community. We want to meet the creative, commercial and emotional needs of our members.

Sensu is a part of Ukai. Ukai helps people outside traditional and institutional spheres of arts creation do their work and contribute to our collective well-being.

Find out more about UKAI

SENSU Series.

Sensu Series is an event series where creative directors are able to showcase their work through a curated lens. Sensu will be providing opportunities for creative directors to submit a vision they have for a creative project, regarding a topic of our choice.

We will host one event centred around a specific sense and 3-6 creative directors will have the opportunity to work either in a collaborative setting or independently at the creation of each installation in the space.

This will also act in connecting other creative directors and artists in the city, act as a platform to debut their work in front of an audience as well as get paid for the work they are contributing to Sensu.

JOIN US.

SENSU Sessions.

Sensu Sessions is an event series where creative directors and other industry experts will be hosting pre-workshops and more informational style content prior to our Sensu Series events.

The sessions are made to be a tool for more industry knowledge, a place to network as well as find creative directors we believe are strong candidates for selection of our big series events.

We will be hosting around 4-6 sessions throughout the year in collaboration with Ukai, a project under Artscape looking to diversify the western content we typically see in the arts.

JOIN US.

SENSU

© 2018 UKAI project

Submit your talent.

Want us to see what you're all about? Show us on Instagram tag #SENSU. Make sure to link us to your portfolio or your Dropbox/WeTransfer link.

#SENSU or

If you like it old school,
just send us an email
sensuseries@ukai.ca

Have any questions?

SUBMIT

SENSU

© 2018 UKAI project